WEST VIRGINIA,

THE ELECTION YESTERDAY.

RETURNS VERY MEAGRE.

Returns Indicate a Republican Victory.

Congressmen Probably all Republicans.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WHEELING, October 22—MIDNIGHT.

The vote of the city is not yet fully counted. The vote is about one thousand larger than in 1866. In the city and county the vote is close, and probably there are small Republican gains. The returns from the State come in meagerly, and we can only hear from a few small towns along the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. Advices from fifteen villages show an increased vote, and the gains pretty evenly balanced, though rather favoring the Democrats. The ticket is long and counting slow, and therefore we can hear very little to-night. The indications are that the Republicans will carry the State by a somewhat reduced majority from 1866, but increased over that of 1867. The Democrats have made extraordinary efforts, and have had help from outside the State. The Republican majority may be 5,000, but hardly below 3,000. The Republicans will probably elect all three Congressmen, and a majority of the Legislature, which elects a United States Senator. Walker, Democrat, runs behind his ticket in the First Congressional District.

WHEELING, W. VA., October 22—12 P. M.—Returns from fifteen towns show a largely increased vote. The gains thus far are in favor of the Democrats. The vote of this city is not yet fully counted. The vote is much greater than in 1866. Two wards show a small Republican gain. The Republicans claim to have carried the State and elected their Congressmen by a reduced majority, while the Democrats are equally sanguine of having gained sufficient to carry the State by at least 2,000 majority. The result cannot be stated to-night.

WHEELING, W. VA., October 22.—The election throughout the State is passing off quietly. A large vote is being polled. The ticket is long and returns will come in slow. In this city, great efforts are being put forth by both parties. Bands of music were parading the streets all day calling out the voters.

WHEELING, WEST VA., October 11.—Returns are very meagre, and come in very slowly. Wood county and Parkersburg city have gone Democratic, a Democratic gain of over two hundred over the vote of 1866. The returns thus far received show Democratic gains in Ohio county, and Wheeling city is very close. The Republicans concede it has gone Democratic by one hundred majority, and the Democrats claim two hundred. Returns from Center township show a Republican gain.

FROM ROCHESTER, PA.

Beaver County Teachers' Institute—Accident on the Fort Wayne Railroad—Coroner's Inquest—Machine Works, Etc.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.

ROCHESTER, PA., October 22, 1868.

The Beaver County Teachers' Institute, which assembled in the Public School house in this borough on Monday, continues under very flattering auspices.

One hundred and fifty teachers from this county alone are present participating in the exercises, besides a number from a distance, among whom I notice Professor Cooper, of the Edinboro' State Normal School; Professor Gilchrist, Superintendent of the Washington county schools; Professor Eberhart, late Superintendent of Schools in Alabama, and other gentlemen distinguished in the profession.

The exercises throughout have been marked with interest, and the Institute is admitted by all present as possessing more talent than any similar convention ever assembled in the West. Quite a number of essays were read by the lady members of the Institute, which reflected credit on the originality and depth of thought of the writers, as did also their rendition before the audience. Each lady who was assigned a place on the catalogue of exercises performed her duty creditably. Lectures on the mode of teaching Geography, by Professor Cooper, were well received, as were also the readings of Professor Eberhart, who is admitted one of the best elocutionists in the State. Discussions on methods of teaching different studies have been made daily, and the Institute has created new life and renewed energies among the teachers. The people, too, harmonize with the interests of the Institute, and numbers have attended from the commencement and kindly entertained those from a distance. The Institute continues during the week. Professor Whitham, County Superintendent, presided.

The inquest held on the body of Abner Wolf, of this borough, killed on Saturday, while driving his team, loaded with stone, from Cheney's quarry, near Remington, across the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, closed yesterday, and fully acquitted the railroad of censure. Esquire O. E. Coe, of this place, in the absence of the Coroner, conducted the inquest, and made a searching investigation, the result of which was that the deceased had mistaken the signal of the man he had assisting him, who was in advance of the wagon. The freight train had just passed up, and the signal was for the approach of the Express west, which Mr. Wolf mistook, and had his wagon on the track in time for the engine to strike the hind wheels. He was instantly killed. The wagon was demolished, but the horses escaped without injury. He was fifty-two years of age, and leaves a wife and four children.

The National Plow Works, which have been temporarily stopped for repairs, have resumed work. This establishment gives employment to a great number of mechanics, and its resumption has added considerable life to the borough. I understand the company intend building three thousand of the Kniffin Mowers for the coming harvest. The Union Agricultural Works are also in full blast, as is also the fire brick factory of Messrs. Pendleton.

Considerable interest is yet manifested as to the widening of the Beaver canal, and it is admitted to be only a question of time as to its consummation. Yours, &c., W.

AN APPEAL TO THE DEMOCRACY.

In view of the fact that all the States that have voted have gone for Grant, except Kentucky, Maryland and Delaware, and in view of the further fact that in 1864 McClellan and Pendleton, better men on a better platform, got but three States—Kentuckey, New Jersey and Delaware—there is no hope of the Democracy doing any better now.

We submit, therefore, to the calm and candid consideration of the conservative Democrats, whether for the sake of peace and harmony North and South, they ought not to give up party for the good of their county, and adopt the patriotic advice of the Pittsburgh Post before the nominations, as follows:

"What better thing can we do in case of General Grant's nomination by the Republican party than to VOTE FOR HIM FOR THE PRESIDENCY? Our aim should be to strengthen his hands; to render him as much as possible independent of party and to ELECT HIM AS PRESIDENT OF THE PEOPLE. If unanimously, so much the better.

WE SOLEMNLY BELIEVE THAT IF THE PEOPLE GENERALLY OF THE UNITED STATES CAN COME TOGETHER WITH REAL UNANIMITY ON GENERAL GRANT, IN REGARD TO THE PRESIDENCY, IT WILL BE THE HAPPIEST THING FOR OUR COUNTRY THAT COULD POSSIBLY OCCUR. The future good effects of this course are almost incalculable. We earnestly ask our Democratic friends everywhere to consider this subject carefully."

In this the Post was fully sustained by the New York World, which spoke of General Grant, as follows:

"Apply to General Grant what test you will, measure him by the magnitude of the obstacles he has encountered, by the valor of the positions he has gained, by the power of the antagonists over whom he has triumphed by the achievements of his most illustrious co-worker, by the sureness with which he directs his indomitable energy to the vital points, which is the key of a vast field of operations, or by that supreme test of consummateability, the absolute completeness of his results, and he vindicates his claim to stand next after Napoleon and Wellington, among the great soldiers of this country, if not on a level with the latter."

Also, in view of the additional fact that the rebels ruined the Northern Democracy by coming into their convention, nominating their candidates, and dictating their platform, and then attempting to carry it out and initiating a new rebellion by putting down the reconstruction laws by force of arms. The North by voting with the South for Buchanan and Breckinridge, encouraged the first rebellion. Will you do it again, by now voting with them for Seymour and Blair? If you want to do the South a favor, vote for Grant and peace. War is their ruin; peace is their salvation.

By voting for Grant you tell them to quit war and murder and go to work. You tell them to invite Northern capital and labor to aid them in cultivating their rich lands and in developing their great mineral wealth, making the South one of the most prosperous portions of our country, instead of a vast, frightful grave yard. You tell them to quit warring against themselves, and become good, peaceable and law-abiding citizens, and be treated accordingly, again enjoying all their rights under the just and peaceful administration of a good and great man who, having seen and felt all the horrors of the gigantic rebellion, will do everything in his power to prevent another, which would be worse than the first—a war of races, the whites against the blacks, materially destroying each other, and leaving the South covered with death and desolation, darkness and despair.

What is the remedy for all this? Vote for Grant and peace. Now, as the New York World, the National Intelligencer and other leading organs of the Democratic party have advised that Seymour and Blair decline or be withdrawn, then the advice of the Post would ensue in. Grant would be "unanimously elected independent of party as the people's President," which the Post truly said would be "the happiest thing for the country that could possibly occur." Then all parties, North and South, East and West, could unite in one great, glorious and harmonious triumph, proclaiming once more "peace on earth and good will to men."

Can not the conservative and patriotic Democracy, by uniting for Grant, coerce the radicals to follow? S.

THE St. Louis Times, Frank Blair's home organ, says to the bondholders:

We give them fair warning. The issue they will next be obliged to fight will not be the greenback issue, but repudiation. If it comes they have nobody to blame but themselves.

The success of the semi-repudiation theories of the Democracy before the people has hardly been such as to warrant the confident style of the Times.

GRAND JUBILEE NIGHT.

SPLENDID ILLUMINATION.

Immense Torchlight Procession.

THE ENTHUSIASM UNABATED.

Crowded Streets and Jubilant People.

The torchlight procession and jubilee, gotten up last night by the Republicans of Pittsburgh, in honor of the victories achieved at the State elections in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and Nebraska, was a grand success. The night was exceedingly chilly and disagreeable, with a raw wind prevailing, but notwithstanding these drawbacks there was a very general illumination and decoration of dwellings throughout the city, and especially along the route of procession.

The various clubs turned out in full force, completely uniformed, and, with their gay caps and capes, and brightly-burning torches, presented a splendid appearance. The marching was better than we have heretofore seen, exhibiting a proficiency in drill which was at once pleasing and commendable.

The decorations, while general along the whole route, were much more elaborate and artistic, in many places, than on any previous occasion. There were some magnificent displays on Penn, Liberty, Wylie, Smithfield and other principal thoroughfares, and the attractions drew thousands of people, of both sexes, from comfortable firesides to the chilly atmosphere of the streets. The Clubs, in moving from their several wards to the respective places of rendezvous, drew large crowds after them, and the streets were soon densely packed with people.

All along the route, and especially at the intersecting streets, men, women and children stood patiently for over an hour awaiting the opportunity to witness the pageant as a whole. The windows of the houses were also filled with ladies and children, and as the procession moved along, it was everywhere greeted with shouts of welcome and jubilation. The enthusiasm, both in and out of the ranks, was of the most emphatic and encouraging character, and augured well for a greater triumph on the third of November.

The Procession.

At eight o'clock precisely a signal gun was fired from the Allegheny wharf by the Second ward artillery squad, under cammand of Captain John A. Floyd, and the procession immediately moved off in the following order:

THE MOUNT WASHINGTON TANNER CLUB.

Mount Washington Tanner Club, numbering twenty-four men, under command of Captain J. C. Shaler. This club had the right of the procession and were headed by Smith's martial band.

BRASS BANDS.

The Great Western Band, F. Weiss, Leader.
Julius Moore's Iron City Brass Band.

THE OFFICERS.

Commander-in-Chief—Colonel Jos. Browne.
Chief of Staff—Colonel Wm. B. Neeper.

The Commander-in-Chief wore a blue sash, and the Aids wore red sashes and white rosettes.

FIRST REGIMENT—CAVALRY.

Commanded by Colonel Wm. Blakeley.

This regiment formed on Liberty with the right resting on Marburry street, and presented an excellent appearance.

SECOND REGIMENT—CAVALRY.

Major Harvey Van Voorhees, commanding.

This regiment formed on the south side of Liberty street, in the rear of the First regiment. In this regiment were the Plum Township Grant Hussars, Captain Metzgar and Lieutenant Metzgar. This Club rode fifteen miles to attend the procession and then returned home after it was over.

FOURTEENTH WARD.

Following this was the Fourteenth Grant and Colfax Club, numbering two hundred and thirty men, under command of Captain Magee.

THE SECOND WARD ARTILLERY.

The Second Ward Artillery Squad, under command of Capt. Floyd, came next, and fired a salute every few moments. The artillerymen were loudly cheered at many points along the route.

NED. FOSTER'S CAVALRY.

Next came a body of mounted Ku-Kluxers. Their fantastic suits attracted much attention. Nearly all the members of the company were supplied with horns, which they "tooted" to the great entertainment of the crowd.

The Allegheny Divisions.

The Allegheny divisions were formed in line on Federal street, Allegheny City, and marched across the Suspension Bridge, up Duquesne Way to Hand street, along Hand to Liberty, down Liberty to Penn street, where they fell in line in the main procession. The delegation from Allegheny presented a magnificent appearance, and the clubs all turned out strong. The Chief Marshal wore a white sash, division commanders a blue sash, aids to the Chief Marshal a red sash and white rosette, aids to division commanders a red sash.

The following were the general officers of the Allegheny division:

Chief Marshal—Capt Hugh S. Fleming.
Chief of Staff—J. E. B. Dalzell.
Adjutant General—Abe Patterson.

First Brigade.

Richard C. Gray, Commander.
Dr. W. B. Hazlep, Adjutant General.

Second Brigade.

James W. Grenet, Commander.
E. H. Harrington, Adjutant General.

The First Brigade.

The First Brigade, under command of Richard C. Gray, was headed by the Etna Cornet Band.

The Sharpsburg delegation presented a very creditable appearance.

Captain Callow's Fourth Ward, Allegheny, Minute Men turned out well, fully three hundred being in line. They were everywhere greeted with cheers, and the crowd that lined the sidewalk expressed great admiration for their splendidly appearing red capes, and the soldierly appearance of the men.

The Second Brigade.

The Second Brigade was under command of James H. Grenet, and presented a very creditable appearance.

The first company was the First ward, Allegheny, Grant Skirmishers, under command of Captain Swaney. They were headed by a brass band.

The Second ward, Allegheny Club had a large number of voters in line, and were headed by a curious looking individual who was a host of himself. He illustrated the Democratic idea of voting early and often, and had a banner with an appropriate description and was covered with mottoes too numerous to mention.

The National Guards, under command of Capt. J. S. Schoonmaker, followed, and their splendid appearance was remarked by every one.

South Side Division.

Chief Marshal—Col. J. H. Roberts.
Chief of Staff—Martin Shaffer.
Adjutant General—George Woods.

The Division formed at seven o'clock on Carson street, with the right resting on the south end of the Monongahela bridge. They marched over to Penn street, and fell into the procession after the Allegheny Division. First came the East Birmingham Grant Tanner Club, numbering one hundred men, under command of Captain Herman Zedel. The club was preceded by the Silver Cornet Band.

Then followed the South Pittsburgh Glee Club, in a wagon, after which came a delegation of Tanners from West Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh Divisions—First Regiment.

Colonel—William Cook.
Lieutenant-Colonel—William G. McClure.
Major—James S. Patterson.
Adjutant—John Selferth.

This division formed on the north side of Penn street, with the right resting on Morbury street.

The First Ward Tanner Club, one hundred in number, were preceded by a martial band.

Second Ward Pioneer Grant and Colfax Tanner Club numbered fully one hundred and fifty men. Captain Thomas H. Phelps was in command, and the Club made one of the finest displays of any in the line.

The Fourth Ward Grant Tanner Club, numbering one hundred and forty men, came next, headed by twelve axemen, members of the Eagle Fire Company. Captain John A. Trainor, was in command.

Following these was another Ku-Klux delegation, of a musical order.

Allegheny County Tanners Club, Companies A and F, numbering together one hundred and fifty men. Company A was in command of Major James S. Patterson. Company F was in charge of Lieutenant D. Dunseath.

Second Regiment.

Colonel—Samuel Kilgore.
Lieutenant Colonel—Foster Alward.
Major—Wm. J. Moorhead.
Major—Thos. Marsh.
Adjutant—S. W. Hall.

This regiment formed on the north side of Liberty street, in the rear of the First Regiment, and was headed by the Germania Turner Band. First came the Seventh and Eighth Ward Tanner Club, Capt. Samuel Kilgore. The Club numbered one hundred men, and all wore wreaths.

Eleventh ward Tanner Club, Captain W. J. Moorhead. This club mustered one hundred and fifteen men.

Sixth ward Grant Tanner Club, one hundred and twenty-five strong, Captain Foster Alward.

Following this was the Rescue Hose, Hook and Ladder Company of the above ward. The members were forty in number, dressed in red shirts, and drew their truck, which was handsomely decorated.

Third Regiment.

Colonel—S. W. Reynolds.
Lieut. Colonel—Wm. R. Ford.
Major—Joseph Kaye.
Adjutant—Ralph J. Richardson.

This Regiment formed on the north side of Penn street, in the rear of the Second Regiment. It was headed by the Old Fifth Ward Club, which turned out a large delegation of voters.

The Twelfth Ward Glee Club came next in a wagon, and was followed by the Grant and Colfax Club from this ward, which had in line a large delegation.

Fourth Regiment.

Colonel—J. J. Lawson.
Lieut. Colonel—A. B. Boals.
Major—C. S. Haven.

This Club formed on the north side of Penn street, in the rear of the third regiment.

The Lawrenceville Glee Club came first, with a handsome transparency.

The Lawrenceville Tanner Club had about a hundred members in line.

The Nineteenth and Twentieth Ward Clubs brought up the rear of the procession.

ATTACK BY ROWDIES.

When the rear of the procession, composed of the East Liberty delegation, Nineteenth and Twenty-first wards, was passing by Fahnestock's Lead Factory, on Liberty street, several boulders were thrown from the wall of the railroad track and some of the delegation were struck, but none seriously injured. The wall prevented the miscreants from being assailed by the "marching boys," and the vile wretches who made the assault did not receive the punishment due them. There was no disturbance while the procession passed the Bull Run District.

THE DECORATIONS AND ILLUMINATIONS.

There was a general illumination on Penn street, and Chinese lanterns and flags were to be seen without numbers. Many of the fine residences below St. Clair street were elaborately decorated. The display of Dr. Dickson, Druggist, 271 and 273 Penn street, corner of Hand street, was especially noticeable. Every window of the large four-story building was brilliantly illuminated, and flags and lanterns were displayed in profusion. In the Ninth and Twelfth wards a large number of buildings were illuminated, and in the window of one of them was a representation of a marble monument, upon which was inscribed the suggestive motto: "Horatio Seymour, died October 13, 1868."

The speakers stand, at the Republican pole, corner of Penn and O'Hara streets, was tastefully decorated, and a grand display of fire works was made while the procession was passing.

Liberty street, in a measure, laid aside its business like aspect, many of the merchants illuminating their stores.

On Smithfield street there were a large number of buildings illuminated, an elegant display being made by Weyman Bros., tobacconists.

Many buildings on Pennsylvania avenue and Wylie street were tastefully decorated and illuminated. Major A. M. Brown illuminated every window of his four story residence, corner of Federal and Wylie streets, making a magnificent display on both sides.

On Fifth avenue very creditable displays were made by the Gazette, COMMERCIAL, Chronicle and Dispatch. Pittock's building was tastefully decorated with flags and lanterns. Oliver McClintock & Co. attracted much attention. A magnificent star of gas jets was placed in front of the building, with the initials U. S. in large letters in the center, and the name "Grant" around it, in the corner of the star. The display made by Dunseath & Haslett, jewelers, was also fine.

Remarkable.

Notwithstanding all the articles that have gone the rounds lately as regards high prices of rents, family supplies, &c., people can hardly credit the great decline in prices of flour, which must interest all classes. The wonderful and celebrated brand, White River Flour, is fast gaining the place of all other flours in this vicinity. Made by an entirely new process, and guaranteed to make better bread, besides being always reliable, something that never fails, and is reasonable in price. See advertisement on this page. One of the Most Remarkable Cases on Record—Statement of the Officers of the German Orphans' Asylum, Troy Hill.

In laying the following remarkable case before the public, we do so with a sincere desire to benefit others likewise afflicted.

Josephine Reichbard, aged fifteen, an inmate of the German Orphans' Asylum, Troy Hill, had been deaf and dumb from her infancy. She has lately been operated upon by Dr. Lighthill, 296 Penn street, for the cure of her deafness, which resulted in marked success. She can now hear and distinguish the human voice sufficiently to imitate it, and consequently she speaks already a few words, and is daily improving, both in hearing and speech, she is still under the Doctor's care, who hopes to accomplish a complete cure in time.

CHINESE TEMPLES.

The Future Life—Women Have no Souls—Luck Blocks—Fire-Crackers and Worship.

"Carleton," in his last letter to the Boston Journal, gives the following graphic sketch of the Chinese temples in Canton:

"It would take us a long time to visit all the idol temples, or 'joss houses,' as they are called. The word 'joss' is not a Chinese word, but a corruption of the Latin word Deus,—first used by the Portuguese; the Chinese would not understand us were we to use the term. A look into one or two of the temples will be sufficient for our curiosity. Every city in China has one which is called the city temple, dedicated, to the god of the city, and these are more resorted to than those of any other god.

Going up to the heart of the town, we find the temple in one of the principal streets. There is such a crowd in front of it that we can hardly get along,—not worshipers, but here at the entrance are gamblers, fortune-tellers by the score, quack doctors, hucksters of all sorts. Near by a man is keeping up a tremendous racket on a big drum, and calling upon the crowd to come and see a tiger and other curiosities which he has on exhibition. On both sides of the wide passage are rooms containing plaster images which tell the story of the future life, as the Buddhists understand it,—the torments of the wicked. One man is being ground up in a grist mill. The devils are turning the stone, and the victim has been put in head foremost. You see only his legs and feet sticking out of the hole in the stone. These people believe in the transmigration of souls, that is, that the wicked will live in the future in the shape of oxen, asses, monkeys, snakes, and all sorts of animals, and here is the representation of the change. A boy is changing to a dog; one man had just begun to take on the head of an ox; another has become an ass,—nothing very strange in that perhaps you will say. We see no women or girls taking the form of donkeys or other shapes, for they believe that woman have no souls.

"There is enough about this temple to keep us staring by the hour,—great gilt idols, fifteen feet high; long crimson streamers hanging from the roof; hundreds of small, gilt images,—the goddess of flowers, with their thirty maids; room after room hung with flags and banners, covered with strange devices; rooms where the story-tellers are sitting with listening crowds around them.

"There is a woman worshiping before the idol; throwing upon the ground two pieces of wood, which are flat on one side and round on the other,—they are luck blocks; if one flat surface and one round surface is the result of the throw the day will be lucky. She tries them three times,—they are against her. She rises, lights a paper, touches off a bundle of fire-crackers, and her worship is done. So many fire-crackers are let off throughout the city, as acts of worship, that it is like a Fourth of July all the time.

"Were there time, we might have a long talk about the temple of the Five Geni, also the five-storied pagoda, the temple of the Five Hundred Gods; also, we might talk of the flower-gardens, where the shrubs are trained in the form of goats, horses, dragons, and a great many other shapes. We might ramble through these narrow streets for a week, and we should all the time come upon something new and strange, which would call forth our wonder, and, perhaps, make us laugh outright."

RED JACKET
AXES,

COLBURN'S PATENT.
Patented July 9, 1867. Re-issued Aug. 18, 1868.
Extracts from Letters and Reports of the working qualities of the Axe.
I. Your Axe is bound to be THE AXE.
II. It will cut 35 per cent. better.
III. My brother lost one arm in the war, but with your Axe, he can cut as well as any one else can.
IV. If I could not get another, twenty-five ($25) dollars would not buy it.
V. It will cut hoop-poles better than any other Axe.
VI. I would not be without it for anything.
VII. The only objection is, it goes too far into the wood.
VIII. Men who chop for a living universally approve of it, &c., &c., ad infinitum.
For sale by all reponsible dealers in the United States.

This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.

The rates of premium, being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy-Holders.

Several new and attractive tables are now presented which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former, the policy-holder not only secures a Life Insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.

The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

Circulars, Pamphlets and full particulars given on application to the Branch Office of the Company in Philadelphia, or to its General Agents.

LOCAL AGENTS ARE WANTED in every City and Town; and applications from competent parties for such agencies, with suitable indorsement, should be addressed TO THE COMPANY'S GENERAL AGENTS ONLY, in their respective districts.
